PLUCK'S YEARLING HALF-SISTER THREE HEARTS IS OFFERED BY VALOR BAY FROM SECOND CROP OF LEADING U. S. FRESHMAN SIRE HAT TRICK FAMILY IS RECOGNIZED INTERNATIONALLY AS SOUTH AFRICA'S FINEST TEAM VALOR OFFERS SPLIT PAYMENT, HALF NOW, BALANCE DECEMBER 15 ACCELERATED TAX WRITE OFF FOR 2011 ADDS TO APPEAL OF PROSPECTS

Team Valor International is in a unique position to be able to offer a 50 percent interest in Three Hearts, the yearling half-sister to its 2010 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf hero Pluck and be able to offer terms on the bay filly, as the stable owns 60 percent of her dam Secret Heart. Team Valor will retain a 10 percent interest in the filly, as it did with Pluck himself.

Barry Irwin has valued the medium-sized filly at $400,000, so half of the yearling will be offered on the basis of $200,000. Interests of 10 percent ($40,000), 5 percent ($20,000) and 2 ½ percent ($10,000) will be marketed, with participants paying 50 percent at the time of subscription and the remaining balance on December 15.

Pluck turned in the performance of the 2010 Breeders' Cup when he was able to overcome one adversity after another to mount a sensational bid in the homestretch after going to his nose at the break in the mile race.

“Timing is everything,” Irwin said. “We always had in mind offering the filly sometime before the end of the year. We decided to do it right now, between the yearling sales at Saratoga in August and Keeneland in September, as her sire Hat Trick has emerged as North America’s Leading Freshman sire.

“Also, in light of the unique, Federal government’s one-time accelerated depreciation bonus in 2011, we wanted to give our racing partners as much time as possible for any individual tax planning.”

Irwin said “We named her Three Hearts to reflect the names of her sire Hat Trick and her dam Secret Heart and the fact she is the third foal of her dam. In addition to being the dam’s third foal, she also is the first filly produced by the South African import Secret Heart, whom we consider to be our best broodmare.”

Secret Heart’s first foal is Pluck, winner last season consecutively of the Grade 3 Summer Stakes at Woodbine and the $1-million Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf. A 45 percent interest in the coal-black colt was sold last season based on a value of $3 million to The Vinery, which plans to stand him at their farm in Australia, most likely next season. Pluck suffered some bone bruising earlier in the spring and just last week had his first breeze on the comeback trail.

Secret Heart’s second foal is Southern Heart, an Arch colt that realized a final bid of $150,000 at the Saratoga select yearling sale last season, which was before Pluck had a chance to make a name for himself and his dam.

Secret Heart’s third foal is Three Hearts. A typically medium-sized, well-balanced offspring of Hat Trick, this bay filly has improved physically throughout the first half of the year and has developed into an enticing racing prospect.

Secret Heart’s fourth foal is a stunning filly by Kitten’s Joy that Barry Irwin rates as the top member of Team Valor’s current crop of foals of 2011.

Secret Heart is back in foal to More Than Ready. Team Valor International plans to breed the mare back to Kitten’s Joy.

The magnificent Secret Heart is shown winning the Prix du Cap in Cape Town above and in repose while training in Florida after her importation.

Irwin said “Can you imagine if Three Hearts came up for sale in two weeks at Keeneland? She is by the hottest young sire in the United States and Europe and her dam’s first foal won the Breeders’ Cup! And that doesn’t even take into account the other Grade 1 updates this year in the family.”

When Irwin bought his first draft of racing fillies in South Africa, Secret Heart was in the group. “I got bargains on the other fillies, but I overpaid for Secret Heart,” Irwin said. “I paid more for her pedigree and prospects as a future broodmare than as a racehorse. From the very beginning I had a career in mind for her as a broodmare, because she has all of the credentials that I prize.

“First of all, Fort Wood, her sire, is a French Group 1 winner with a phenomenal pedigree, being by Sadler’s Wells, the world’s all-time leading sire, and out of the fabulous Kentucky-bred mare Fall Aspen, winner of the Grade 1 Matron at Belmont Park and voted Broodmare of the Year, as the dam of four Grade 1 winners including Preakness and Breeders’ Cup Juvenile winner Timber Country.

“Secret Heart is big and roomy, which is what every breeder wants. She stands close to 16 hands 3 inches, or an inch shy of 17 hands,” he said. “Even though she is an Amazon type, she is extremely well balanced. She has exceptional bone.

“Secret Heart could run, too. She was a top-class runner at 2 and 3, winning a 7-furlong stakes and placing both at 2 and 3 in three Grade 1 events, as well as 3 other races that have since been elevated to Grade 1 status. She was a brilliant Miler and placed in top events behind the likes of future Team Valor runners Crimson Palace, who won the $750,000, Grade 1 Beverly D in Chicago, and Champion 3yo filly Tara’s Touch, who was a multiple stakes winner in North America for the stable.”

Irwin said that Secret Heart has truly lived up to the dreams he held for her from the outset. “Look at Pluck for goodness sakes,” he said. “I don’t think we’ve owned a better looking horse than him. He is gorgeous and everybody knows it. One cannot say enough positive things about him in terms of his conformation or quality.

“Southern Heart is not as flashy as Pluck, but he had no conformation faults and was actually a better walker than Pluck. I didn’t really want to sell him, but Fasig-Tipton pressed us to put him in the sale at Saratoga and once there I was talked into placing a conservative reserve on him. I was heartsick when we sold him for $150,000. He was immature and needed a couple more months to be ready for a yearling sale. But he has the tools and I fully expect him to be a runner. He is typical of Arch, his sire, who was backward as a youngster himself and sires horses that require a lot of time to develop.”

Three Hearts stands 15 hands 2 inches and should top out slightly over 15 hands 3 inches as a mature filly. Donnie Snelling, Denali's yearling manager, says of the yearling "Attractive head, good bone, good balance, average size. Both knees slightly offset. Slight toeing in left front. Average hind leg and strong hind quarters. Good Rating. Nice filly."

Barry Irwin said "Since I originally bought the sire, Hat Trick, before selling him to Walmac Farm, I know a lot about him and have seen some of his foals. Hat Trick is by Sunday Silence, whom I knew intimately, since he was trained in Southern California and a horse we raced named Prized beat him in a memorable renewal of the Swaps Stakes at Hollywood Park.

Sunday Silence didn't take anybody's breath away. . .

"Sunday Silence only last week was referred to by a breeding pundit as very possibly the most successful and dominant sire of his era in the entire world. He was Horse of the Year, he won the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Breeders' Cup Classic and has been a towering success at stud. But Sunday Silence was the most miserable looking young horse on record. His breeder tried time and time again to sell him without success.

"Problem was that Sunday Silence was just a very immature type of horse. Even when he was fully mature, there was not a lot to him physically. What made him great, both as a sire and runner, was his ability to run and pass it on to his offspring.

"Hat Trick is only a bit of an improvement physically on his sire. Hat Trick also shares the slight look of Sunday Silence. This is all being said in advance to describe Three Hearts, who in my opinion is a normal sized Thoroughbred raised in the bluegrass, but an above average sized offspring of Hat Trick or a descendant of Sunday Silence. The hallmark of this tribe is their balance and their athleticism, not their overwhelming power.

"For me, Three Hearts is a very good racing prospect. I like her pastern angle. She is well balanced. When you stand behind her, you see a lot of strength in her hindquarters. When she walks toward you from the front end, her left knee is a tad offset, but has improved with age. If I didn't like her and didn't consider her to be a good prospect, we would have sold her. When we keep something to race, it is because we like it and want it in our racing stable."

. . .until they saw him in motion, then they realized that it was the black horse's pure athleticism that made him what he was on the racetracks of North America, where he was Horse of the Year at 3 after taking the Kentucky Derby, Preakness Stakes and the G1 Breeds' Cup Classic in a remarkable crop of racehorses that included his arch rival, Belmont hero and Champion Easy Goer.

Hat Trick, sire of Three Hearts, was a Grade 1 winner over a mile both in his native Japan and in Hong Kong. A Champion in Japan, he won 8 races and earned more than $3 million before being bought by Barry Irwin as a stallion prospect. Irwin owned him for a week and sold him to Walmac International in Kentucky, an internationally minded farm that stood all-time great sire Nureyev.

In his first crop of foals racing this season, Hat Trick has come up with the 2-year-old French-based black colt Dabirsim, who is unbeaten in 4 races, the last 2 of them Graded, including a stunning, runaway tour de force performance in a 3-length victory for the Group 1 Prix Morny that has established him as the top juvenile trained in Europe this season. Barry Irwin was on hand at Deauville to witness the Group 1.

Dabirsim rocketed away from his rivals in a display of power that left onlookers with a feeling that they had seen a true Champion.

“I was there in person when Dabirsim won,” Irwin said. “It was a real wow performance, because he completely relaxed, was steered into the lead without having to be asked and he simply exploded when Frankie Dettori show him the whip. It was a dominating performance. He will make his next start soon in the Group 1 Middle Park Stakes at Newmarket. He is a Champion in the making.”

Dabirsim is owned by a wealthy German bookie, who reportedly turned down a substantial offer from Sheik Mohammed for the colt. Irwin himself is in the process of negotiating a possible sale of Hat Trick to a leading breeder in the Southern Hemisphere.

“Now that the cat’s out of the bag,” said Irwin, “everybody wants in. Now breeders realize Hat Trick is a fast horse that outcrosses with Northern Dancer and he has a Champion in his first crop.”

“Hat Trick is a hot commodity and an important horse, because he represents a bloodline that has been a perfect cross for the over abundance of Northern Dancer line broodmares in the United States, Europe and Australia,” Irwin explained. “He is a scion of the Turn-to sire line that also includes Dynaformer, the sire of ill-fated Barbaro. When Barbaro died, it was a massive loss to worldwide breeding because his male bloodline was so important for the Northern Dancer line mares.”

“Currently, the best representative of this sire line in the United States is More Than Ready. The reason I bred Secret Heart to Hat Trick was to come as close as possible to duplicating the successful mating of Pluck with a different stallion.”

More Than Ready and Hat Trick both were sired by sons of Halo. More Than Ready is by Halo’s son Southern Halo, who is a sire of sprinters. Hat Trick is a son of Sunday Silence, who is a sire of middle distance horses. Interestingly, More Than Ready was a dirt sprinter who excels as a sire of grass runners.

Halo, the paternal grandsire of both Hat Trick and More Than Ready, was an enigma, because he was a top grass horse that made his mark as a sire of tough dirt horses. He sired a pair of Kentucky Derby winners in Sunday Silence and Sunny’s Halo. He sired sound, hardy horses.

Sunday Silence was a middle distance dirt performer who excels as a sire of middle distance grass horses. Halo was a tip-top American grass performer who was useless as a grass sire, but brilliant as a sire of dirt runners!

Irwin said “I have no earthly idea what surface Three Hearts will relish, because it could go either way, based on her pedigree. I will be as interested as everybody else to find out how she develops. All I know is that she is a quality filly and we look forward to racing her.”

Three Hearts comes from perhaps the most prized family in the South African Stud Book. She is the third foal out of her dam Secret Heart. Second dam Secret Pact was a three-time Listed stakes winner and multiple Graded placed, twice placing in Grade 1 races. As a broodmare, Secret Pact has produced two Grade 1 winners in Promisefrommyheart and Covenant. Barry Irwin tried to buy both of them. He offered his highest price ever for a South African filly when he bid $1.5 million for Promisefrommyheart, who became a multiple Grade 1-winning Champion Filly at 3.

Covenant—the top filly sprinter and second best miler at 3.

Irwin said he thought she was good enough to go to France and compete in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe. "I never tried harder to buy a horse in my life and failed so miserably," Irwin said. "She is owned by a very wealthy widow who lives in Monaco. After she flat refused to sell me the filly, I asked her if she would consider either marrying or adopting me, so I could have the filly!"

Promisefrommyheart from 6 of her first 8 races, was a multiple Grade 1 winner from 8 to 10 furlongs and caught the imagination of Barry Irwin like no other Classic type filly or mare he has seen in South Africa.

Covenant at 3 last season was the top sprinter of her generation and the second-best Miler only to Team Valor's Ebony Flyer, who was unbeatable at the distance. Covenant beat older fillies and mares in winning the Grade 1 Majorca Stakes and continues her racing career this season, in which she is likely to add further luster to her brilliant career. She has Championship possibilities.

Third dam Soho Secret, like her daughter Secret Pact, was a Listed stakes winner and Grade 1 placed, hitting the board in the Paddock Stakes over 9 furlongs. Soho Secret is a fabled producer, having produced 8 individual stakes winners. (Be sure to check out the pedigree of Three Hearts. The one used was generated in South Africa, because the research done by the American companies are incomplete. Seeing a mare that has produced 8 stakes winners is worth looking at, because it does not happen every day anywhere in the world.)

Her son London News was the first South African horse to win a major race in Asia, where in Hong Kong he won the Queen Elizabeth II Cup. London News was a two-time Horse of the Year and multiple Champion in South Africa, as well as a successful sire. London News, historically, was a very important horse for South Africa, because when he won in Hong Kong in the mid 1990s, South African horses had become isolated and the horsemen had no idea if their horses still stacked up with the greats of earlier eras, such as Colorado King who became a California star in the early 1960s.

Cashier's Dream won the G1 Spinaway S. and broke Ruffian's 2yo record sprinting.

Soho Secret is responsible for a slew of important stakes winners, both at home and abroad, most notably the current English campaigner King's Gambit, a Champion Colt at 3 in South Africa, where he won the South African Derby. This season in England the double South African Grade 1 hero won the Group 3 Gordon Richards Stakes. He was produced by Grade 1-winning South African mare Lady Brompton.

Tangentially, and mostly for the interest of Team Valor partners, this is the immediate family of the stable's former juvenile hotshot filly Cashier's Dream, winner for the stable of the Grade 1 Spinaway Stakes at Saratoga and winner of the Grade 3 Debutante Stakes in time better than Churchill Downs' track record for 5 ½ furlongs, which also bettered Ruffian's record as the fastest time for that distance by a 2-year-old filly in North American racing history.

This brilliant female family is renowned for having at least one top filly or mare in each generation of the pedigree and does not look like slowing down
